

A Few Criticisms on Blackstone's Commentaries.

"An incomparable work; and the most beautiful outline that was ever exhibited of any human science."—SIR W. JONES.

"Blackstone's knowledge of English history was rather superficial."—HALLAM'S MIDDLE AGES.

"I am always sorry to hear Mr. Justice Blackstone's Commentaries cited as an authority."—LD. CHANCELLOR REDESDALE.

"A work of such singular exactness and perspicuity, of such finished purity and propriety of style that as a text-book it probably stands unrivaled in the literature of any other language."—JUDGE JOSEPH STORY.

NEW LAW PUBLICATIONS SUPPLIED AS SOON AS PUBLISHED.

JOHN BYRNE & CO.

BOOK-MARK.

CALL OR WRITE TO US IF YOU HAVE LAW BOOKS TO SELL.

WHEN YOU WANT TO BUY LAW BOOKS CALL OR WRITE FOR PRICES.

DON'T turn down the corner of the leaf to mark a page, but use this Marker and you will not

FORGET your place. "Dogears," as turned-down leaves are called, are unsightly things

TO a book-lover. Do not write your name on the back or sides of your books. It will PAY you better to have a private mark, such as your initials, on some particular page or pages; let US say page 70, for instance, and again on page 170, then page 270, and so on. We cannot suggest

A better way in this small space, but if you will honor us with a

VISIT, or write us if you cannot call, we will give you any needed information about Law Books. We give our exclusive attention to buying, selling, binding and exchanging Law Books.

1322 F ST., Washington, D. C.